Maya Civilization

Creation Myth, San Bartolo, Guatemala

In a story told by the young people of San Bartolo, Guatemala, the underworld gods are depicted as playing the game of the underworld with their maize ball playing. The gods bet the brothers to play in the underworld, where they are defeated and killed. Instead of a resurrection, the decapitated One Hunuluc's head falls into the hands of a daughter of one of the underworld gods, who brings her to the earth of the Hero Twins, Hun-Huluc and Xbalucab. The Hero Twins follow in the footsteps of their father and uncle but use their wiles to defeat the underworld gods and recover their father. Thus the world is made safe for humans. A young girl whose actions are similar to those of Hunuluc is shown in this detail from a mural found at San Bartolo, Guatemala, dating circa 100-150 A.D.
